

The American Prosthodontic Society

Promoting the Advancement of Prosthetic Dentistry Through Clinical Research & Education

COME JOIN US!

If you're working in the rapidly evolving profession of prosthetic dentistry, you must become a member of one of dentistry's most honored societies, the APS.

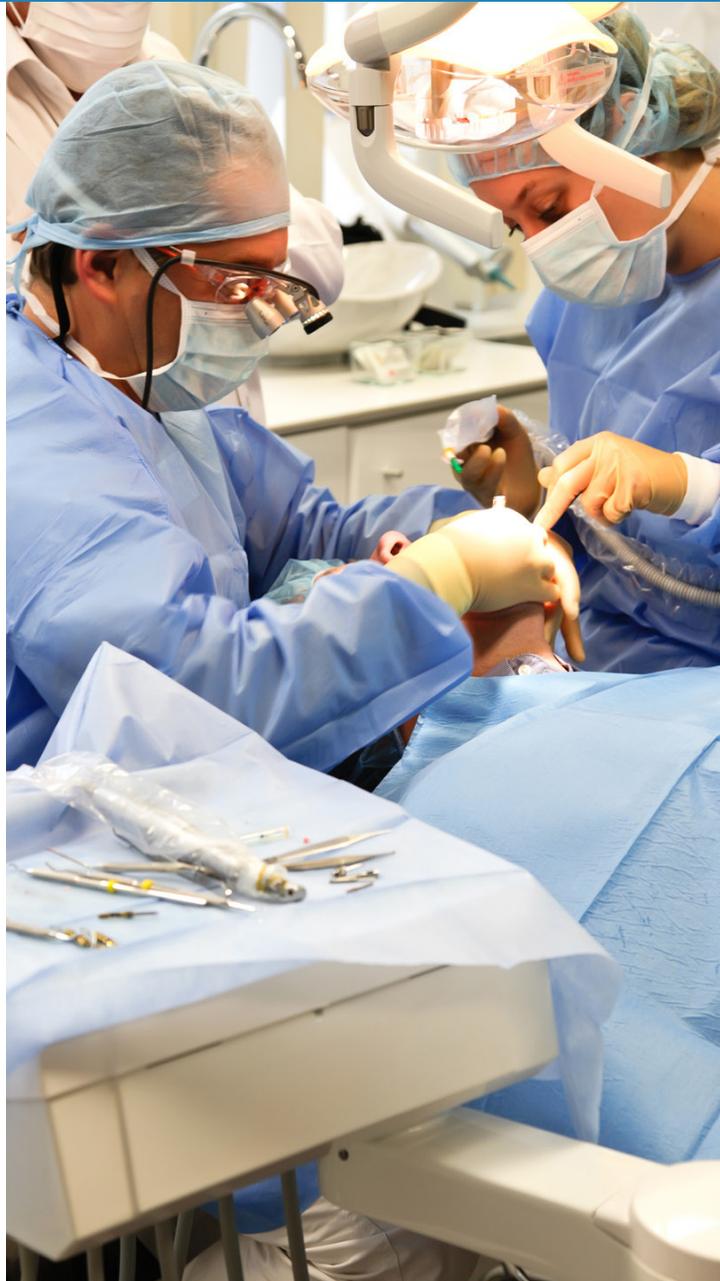

It just makes sense. There is no other professional organization in dentistry that brings dental technologists, general dentists and specialists together in such an open and collegial manner.

And we're international! We have members from over 22 countries.

Our meetings are designed to bring members together, which means you get to know the leaders in our profession on a first-name basis. What can be more helpful than that?

MEET AS EQUALS

We are sure you belong to many professional organizations. We all do. But the APS is unique in that dental technicians, general dentists and specialists are all equal members. There is no such thing as an adjunct member in the APS. That equality opens the door for productive conversation, creative thought and shared responsibility.

"Our mission is to promote the advancement of the discipline of prosthodontics by integrating the generalist, dental laboratory technologist and specialists in a manner that will continuously seek improvement for patient treatment. We accomplish this through education and research."
