CHICAGO2017
the AMERICAN PROSTHODONTIC SOCIETY

Welcome to the 89th Annual Meeting of the American Prosthodontic Society, where we will meet at the crossroads of technology & art in prosthodontics.

Over 1.5 days, you will enjoy relevant education in advanced prosthodontics, interdisciplinary instruction led by our world-renowned experts and networking and social events designed to inspire good conversation and build worthwhile relationships.

The APS is the only organization that combines the discipline, specialty and technology of prosthodontics. Our membership includes specialists, general dentists, certified and master dental technologists and students. The APS has earned the reputation of being the singular organization with unrestricted membership where all that is required is an interest in prosthodontics. There is no better organization than the APS to bring together the talent, the insight and the experience of practicing dentists, researchers, dental school faculty and administrators and technologists in one meeting devoted to the advancement of prosthodontics.

ADA CER·P® | Continuing Education
Recognition Program

The American Prosthodontic Society is an ADA CER·P Recognized Provider. ADA CER·P is a service of the American Dental Association to assist dental professionals in identifying quality providers of continuing dental education. ADA CER·P does not approve or endorse individual courses or instructors, nor does it imply acceptance of credit hours by boards of dentistry. APS designates this activity for 13 continuing education credits.

Survey and Continuing Education Information

Session-level surveys are available through our mobile-enabled site, www.messageblocks.com/aps2017. An overall evaluation of the meeting will be sent post-event. To receive a continuing education letter, attendees must submit a CE claim form. Forms are available onsite and will also be made available post-event.

High impact pour acrylic can handle the stress.

Lucitone® HIPA

High Impact Pour Acrylic

The Pour with More. New Lucitone® HIPA from Dentsply Sirona Prosthetics is the first pour acrylic to exceed the ISO standard for high-impact strength. In fact, it is 200% stronger than other pour acrylics¹, and it has excellent fit-to-model and color stability. The increased durability reduces the potential for fractures in the dental lab, resulting in time and cost savings due to less remakes. Now you can produce a high-impact denture and save 21% hands-on working time over heat cure².

1. Based on Dentsply Sirona testing (Lucitone HIPA n=54, Competitor A n=20, Competitor B n=20)
2. Time savings is based upon hands-on working time. It does not compare curing times, which are much shorter with pourable acrylics. The time study was conducted by an experienced Dentsply Sirona Lab Technician. The results illustrate the potential time savings between pouring and heat curing. The experience and skill of individual technicians will impact your potential time savings. The best way to determine the time savings in your lab is to conduct similar time comparisons.

Graduate Prosthodontic Program

The APS is focused on the future of prosthodontics. With that focus in mind, the APS has attracted an exciting field of graduate student candidates for the 2017 Research Competition. Recruited by Dr. John Ball, they will be presenting original work over a wide range of topics. The mission of this program is to provide an annual forum for graduate students to foster high-quality research, writing and oral presentation skills. Furthermore, the APS welcomes the opportunity to develop stronger ties to prosthodontic graduate students and cultivate their future leadership in the Society.
